FORMER TONOPAH GIRL MARRIED IN OREGON

Emma Mary Wise, formerly a resident of Tonopah, was married on December 19 at Walton, Ore., to J.
J. Kestly, a prominent business man of that place. The bride resided in Tonopah for a number of years, leaving here about two years ago.
She is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs.
W. K. Wise, the family now residing in Oregon where they have purchased a large ranch. The news of the wedding was received in To-nopah several days ago by a brother of the bride, Otto Wise, of the Consolidated Auto company.

ROCHESTER IS MECCA FOR MANY GOLD SEEKERS

NEW CAMP IN HUMBOLDT COUNTY SCENE OF BUSTLING ACTIVITY

The new camp of Rochester is fast coming to the front, according to the Lovelock Review-Miner, which contains a lengthy review of the district in its last issue. The following excerpts are taken from the Review:

Most new comers, especially the mining experts, go into the camp hoping to find something good, but skeptical to a degree. They all come away convinced, because the values are there, as they find on investigation. Take the experience of H. S.
Haggard of Chicago for instance.
Haggard is a contractor, not a miner.
He was on his way to California when he heard of the Rochester Canyon strike. He went in about a week ago and is now a fixture there.
He visited all the different workings and took samples on 20 different claims. Among these was one on the Borland lease, out of the lower tunnel, just after they had encountered the fault and before the ore came in again. He was told there was no value in his sample. Just the same, these various samplings, taken at random, averaged $41.60. L.
K. Gregory of Reno took sample on the Big Four lease. He got returns of $201. Believing he had made a mistake, he got some more rock and obtained practically the same figures. Assistant District Attorney Moore of Reno, who has become an enthusiastic Rochester boomer, also sampled the Big Four ledge across eight feet and got a value of $86.99 per ton. This, mind you, practically at the grass roots, for the Big Four is not down over six feet.

Speaking of the Big Four, its lease is just now the big thing in camp.
They now have four men at work and have about two carloads of ore ready for shipment. They have over 300 sacks sewed up, ready to be hailed to Orona and are only awaiting the arrival of the teams to begin hauling. They would have had more sacked, but for the scarcity of sacks, and Joseph Platt, one of the quartermen, came to town yesterday to get an additional supply. If the teamster keeps his promise, hauling of the ore will begin today. Their ledge now shows a width of eight feet and they are sacking every bit of it. As stated before, they take daily assays and during the past ten days the results have been most satisfying, all values having increased from $6 to $8 over the figures heretofore published in the columns of this paper. Not the least encouraging is the fact that the gold values are also showing a continual increase.

The latest transaction of note is that whereby A. A. Codd of the state board of regents has secured a ten days' option on the Wilson-Swan lease on block 2, Crown Point.
The terms of the option were not disclosed for publication.

A new road is being constructed between the two camps. The old road on the side hill below the lower camp has been abandoned and a new road made in the wash in the canyon to within about three miles of the camp.

C. H. McIntosh arrived from To-nopah Monday and went out to Rochester the following day. McIntosh secured an interest in the new camp in valuable ground and it is his intention to start operations in the immediate future. He would not state the extent of his holdings or his plans as to the future, other than to say that he would return shortly after the first of the year and then would give out something definite.
However, he did say this: "I have been engaged in mining, particularly in the southern part of the state, for many years, and have seen some rich surface showings, but I have never observed anything to equal what I saw at Rochester. You can say for me that I am a most ardent booster for the new camp and my faith in its future will be the capital I will interest there."

AMUSEMENTS

Butler Theater

At the Butler theater this evening a beautiful and entertaining program will be shown as follows: "Pat the Soothsayer," a Kalem comedy; "Juan and Juanita," a Lubin drama; "The Voice of Warning," a Selig drama, and a Vitagraph drama featuring Anna M. Stewart, the new leading lady, entitled "The Wood Violet." Olympia, a child of nature, marries a wealthy man. He takes her to his beautiful mansion. She constantly hears the call of the wild flowers.
Her husband sees that she is pining under the restraints of society. He builds her a lodge in the wood, where she is once more happy and content. Beautiful woodland scenes, birds and flowers and the love of nature predominate throughout the picture. A visit to the Butler this evening will satisfy your fancy and fill your souls with life.
Thursday, "A three reel subject entitled "Frenzied Finance." Look at our specials for this week: "Mystery of Grandfather's Clock" tomorrow; "The Country School Teacher" Friday. Saturday Pathe's Weekly
No. 46.

SMALLEST GIRL IS BORN

AURORA, Ill., Dec. 31.—A 17-ounce girl was born in the city hospital here last night. The child is perfectly formed and apparently strong.
Mrs. Eva Roote of Aurora is the mother. Her wedding ring can be slipped on one of the child's legs.

KNOX EXPRESSES SYMPATHY

WASHINGTON, Dec. 31.—Secretary Knox sent the following telegram to the chancellor of the empire, Herr Van Berthmann-Hollweg:
"Accept the sincere sympathy of the government of the United States and of myself in the death of the distinguished Herr Von Kiderlen-Waechter."

INAUGURAL PLANS DISCUSSED

WASHINGTON, Dec. 31.—Inaugural plans and democratic policies were mingled with social affairs today by Wm. F. McCombs, democratic national chairman, who left President-elect Wilson's train here yesterday to confer with local committeemen. Mr.
McCombs was the guest at a luncheon attended by Thomas Nelson Page, Representative Underwood and a number of prominent democrats.

GOTCH'S BROTHER DEAD

NEW YORK, Dec. 31.—Alphonse Gotch, brother of Champion Heavyweight Wrestler Frank Gotch, died today in a rooming house here. He had fallen from a bathtub and an autopsy showed his neck was broken.
